

in the shadows of war

Photographs by Professor Rafi Samizay

For almost four decades, Afghanistan has been gripped by the tyranny of war leaving lasting scars on the culture and landscape of the country. The blow on the country's human lives, its environment and historical heritage has been merciless.

The select photographs shown in this exhibit form a window through which this ancient land's complexity and contradictions, its agonies and ecstasies, its soft faces and abrasive edges, can be viewed.
