

BLACK + WHITE

RICHARD TUNG

This chapter explores the balance of black and white material in order to optimize heating efficiency in a redesigned Carpenter Hall. This process is done by analyzing the reflective properties of color, strategic use of Trombe walls and light wells, and utilization of passive solar design.

